The second CQS focuses on translating the Qur’ān into English. Three translators will discuss their work. There will be presentations on the Library of Arabic Literature, a Morisco Qur’ān and current work at the Mohammed VI Institute of Qur’ānic Readings and Studies in Rabat.

CONVENERS
James Montgomery (FAMES)
Shady Hekmat Nasser (FAMES)
Yasmin Faghihi (UL)
Elizabeth Key Fowden (FAMES)

15 MAY 2015
Cripps Auditorium, Magdalene College

10:00 Introduction to the CQS
10:15 Muhammad Abdel-Haleem
Translating the Qur’ān into English: Aspirations, challenges and solutions adopted
11:00 Break
11:15 Arthur Droge
Translators/Traitors/Traders: Visiting Mr Nabokov
12:15 Lunch break
1:00 Amina Nawaz
Qur’ān translations in Morisco manuscripts from sixteenth-century Spain
1:20 Khalid Saqi
Mohammed VI Institute of Qur’ānic Readings and Studies: a timely institution
1:40 Coffee break
2:00 Philip Kennedy, Shawkat Toorawa, James Montgomery
Should The Library of Arabic Literature (LAL) include a translation of the Qur’ān?

For information and registration, please contact CQS@ames.cam.ac.uk Registration required by 1 May 2015