Japan and the World Undergraduate Internships

Japan and the World Internship opportunities are available to students on the Japanese Studies undergraduate course. By offering placements at businesses in a varied range of sectors these internships are designed to give our undergraduate students the chance to experience working in a foreign language environment, and provide an early grounding in the skills they will need when entering employment after graduation. Please read the steps below for information on how to apply.

Step 01
Read through the various listings and company descriptions on the Internships page of the faculty website. Decide which sounds best suited to you. The internship information and application forms can be found at:

https://www.ames.cam.ac.uk/undergraduate/east-asia/japanese-studies/internships

Step 02
Once you have decided which company you would like to apply to spend some time finding out what this company does and what industry they are in. Think about how this can help your studies and what you hope to get out of the experience; but also think about what you can bring to the company.

Step 03
Complete the relevant Japan and the World internship application form. In your statement make sure to mention why you are applying, and show that you have done some research into your potential employer.

Step 04
Once you have completed your application hand it in to the faculty office along with a current CV, or email it to fs468@cam.ac.uk. Make sure to include your full name in any correspondence.

The Japanese Studies Subject group will make the initial recommendation based on your statement, however please note that the final decision for internship placements rests with the companies themselves. FAMES cannot guarantee that you will be offered a placement.
